

User Description:

Hi, I'm Anna Müller, a 32-year-old marketing specialist living in Berlin. My E-Mail address is juleskuehlschrankhund@gmail.com. My job is dynamic and often fast-paced, so I truly value well-organized trips that match my preferences and needs. I enjoy discovering new cultures, but I also appreciate relaxing getaways in nature or by the sea.

I'm tech-savvy and love using digital tools that simplify my life. All my past trips are stored in my online account, so you can access that information to make personalized recommendations. It's important to me that my trips fit both my mood and my budget.

My Preferences:

- Activities: Hiking, city trips, museums, and wellness.
- Accommodations: Mid-range hotels or charming boutique options.
- Budget: Moderate to high, depending on the season and trip duration.
- Special Needs: I'm sensitive to weather – I often look for sunny destinations during the winter and prefer short, relaxing weekend getaways when I'm stressed.

Vacation Days:

I have 30 vacation days available per year. For 2025, I've already used 3 days, leaving me with 27 days that I must use by the end of March 2026. Please help me track my remaining days and ensure that any trip recommendations align with my available vacation days.

Please keep this information in mind when suggesting trips. I'd love it if you could proactively offer alternatives in case the weather at my chosen destination isn't ideal. Additionally, I'd appreciate suggestions on how to make the most of my remaining vacation time, even if I only have a few days off.
